

STEM

Anatomy Project

Anatomy students designed a robotic arm that was capable of lifting a styrofoam cup off the table. Students worked in teams to complete this project after a field trip to Robert Wood Johnson Medical School cadaver lab.

