

Emergency Room or Urgent Care: Where Do I Go?

Join Michael Gerardi, MD, an emergency physician, pediatric emergency medicine specialist, and faculty at Goryeb Children's Hospital and Morristown Medical Center as he discusses the unexpected sudden illnesses or traumatic injuries your child may face and where to take them for the most prompt and highest quality of care. There are several choices ranging from your primary care physician, versus an urgent care, an emergency department, or perhaps a new option – an advanced urgent care staffed by emergency physicians.

Pre-registration is required.

All parents, caregivers, and school personnel are welcome to attend.
